This sermon begins with these sentences:
In my mind, the 4th of July will never be the same as it used to be. The 4th of July used to mean family gatherings and fireworks and playing “The Star Spangled Banner”. For the rest of my life, the 4th of July will be remembered as the day….

The remainder of the sermon is not published online due to sensitive material. If you would like to read a hard copy please talk to Rev. Major at St. Paul’s, Syracuse.